

Shanti Regester, LMFT #92756

“support for your life journey”

Electronic Transmission of PHI

Electronic transmission of Protected Health Information (PHI) is not prohibited. However, informed consent and acknowledgment is required in order to utilize texts or e-mails to communicate. Shanti Regester will apply reasonable and appropriate safeguards to the electronic transmission but she cannot be responsible for safeguarding information once delivered to the patient. Please be aware of the following risks:

Communicating confidential information via e-mail or text message may not be secure and confidentiality may be breached for the following reasons; but are not limited to: 1) the transmission may be intercepted; 2) the transmission may be sent to the wrong recipient; and 3) the e-mail or text message may be accessed by an unauthorized person.

By signing, you are in acknowledgment of the risks of communicating via electronic transmission and are giving consent to communicate electronically.

By checking off this box, I am denying consent to communicate via electronic submission under all circumstances.

Client's Signature

Date